HAYS AT CONVENTION

He Gives His 'Vision' of What Administration Means to Accomplish.

REORGANIZATION NEEDED

Expects Department of Interior to Be Called That of Public Works.

President Harding and Postmaster-General Hays made notable contribuwar and has characterized

Wr. Hays's Forecast.

Mr. Hays repudiated any purpose to violate the proprieties by attempting to indicate the purposes of the Administration. "But I can imagine," said he, "that if we were to refer to the future we might vision with hope and assurance the Administration moving out immediately to make certain:

"An honest, efficient and economical business administration of the administration administr of property, a higher and higher stand-ard of education, a deeper and deeper appreciation of the obligation of self-sacrificing example."

The Postmaster-General discussed defects in the present organization of the executive departments and their respective bureaus. The Administration, he said, purposes to eliminate these defects. He spoke of the joint Congressional committee on reorganization which to that end, is to make prelimble to the property of the property hich, to that end, is to make preliminary survey.

New Departmental Name.

Mr. Hays then continued: "It would seem natural to expect:

"First—The change of the name of the Department of the Interior to Department of Public Works, and the concentration in that department of all evil public works of the Government, as well as all those services which have to do with the administration and utilization of the public domain.

"Second—The establishment of a new department, the Department of Public Welfare, to have charge of all bureaus and offices which handle relief work for the veterans of the war with Germany, including the Bureau of War Risk insurance, the Federal Board for Vocational Education, and the hospitalization division of the Public Health Service. In this department would be placed also those bureaus which deal with health questions generally, and with education and social welfare.

"Third—The stripping of the Treasury Department of all except its necessary."

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

UTICA, April 28.—Deputy Sheriff Wallace Newton, testifying to-day in the trial of Mrs. Jennie Werner, who with Rutger Warder is charged with plotting the murder of her husband. Henry Werner, told of going to the Werner, home on the morning after the murder and examining the family shotgun.

"I took the gun," he declared, "and showed it to Jennie Werner and told her that it had been fired recently. She said it had, that it had been used to kill two dogs and that she had begged Henry not to go out that night to shoot the dogs. About 11:45, she said, she heard two shots and called to Rutger Warder: 'I wonder if he killed those dogs.'

"Warder said that 'the funny part of it was that Henry kissed her four times before he went out.' Jennie said: 'Not four, but three,'"
